DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jantzen (U.S. Patent No. 3,857,531) in view of Tsuyuki et al (U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2001/0028010).

With respect to Claims 1-15, Jantzen, Figures 1-6, teaches a cartridge 10 comprising a tape; a reel 16 having a reel hub 18, the reel hub having a cylindrical recess portion; a case which accommodates the reel such that the reel is rotatable; a reinforcing ring 20 being a member separate from the reel hub. Jantzen teaches all the elements of the cartridge except for a braking member. However, Tsuyuki et al, Figures 1-7, teach a braking member able to move between a locking position and a non-locking position. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Jantzen with a braking member, as taught by Tsuyuki et al, for the purpose of immobilizing the reel within the cartridge thereby preventing damage to the reel while the cartridge is not in use.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed February 4, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Art Unit: 3654

With respect to applicant's regarding the combination of Jantzen in view of Tsuyuki et al, the examiner recognizes that references cannot be arbitrarily combined and that there must be some reason why one skilled in the art would have been motivated to make the proposed combination of primary and secondary references. However, there is no requirement that a motivation to make the modification be expressly articulated in the primary reference. The test for combining references is what the combination of disclosures taken, as a whole would have suggested to one of ordinary skill in the art. References are evaluated by what they suggest to one versed in the art, rather than by their specific disclosures. Further, the test for obviousness is not whether the features of a secondary reference may be bodily incorporated into the structure of the primary reference; nor is it that the claimed invention must be expressly suggested in any one or all of the references. Rather, the test is what the combined teachings of the references would have suggested to those of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981). In the instant case, both references teach a reel within a cartridge case. Tsuyuki et al recognized the problem of movement of the reel within the cartridge case. As such, Tsuyuki et al deemed it necessary to include a brake member within the case to lock the reel. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a brake member to Jantzen.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 3654

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
